

JESSE W. KNIGHT CARRIES UTAH COUNTY--MAJORITY

Salt Lake county Goes Republican by at Least 5,000 Majority.

Stung! Despite the efforts of the unwashed they have been handed a defeat by the Republican party by the way of defeat. The defeat is not a heavy one in this county and at this writing it can hardly be said with safety that the Democrats will not get some of the county offices.

Notwithstanding the defeat of the county ticket, Jesse W. Knight will be given a majority of nearly one thousand when the counting of votes is completed. In almost every town in Utah county Mr. Knight has been given excellent support by both parties. The majority given Mr. Taft in this county will not save him in the state as the majority of Mr. Spry is heavy, reaching nearly five thousand in Salt Lake county alone.

The Republicans were given a great victory in every part of the county and nothing could stop the roller. While Democrats made extra efforts in behalf of their county ticket, it was without avail. And the success which has been given the Republicans in past years is still with them.

SALT LAKE CITY ELECTION

The Americans and Democrats are sitting up and wondering how it happened in Salt Lake, the Republicans having carried the county by at least five thousand majority. This is a real election surprise even to some of the wise ones and the defeated are blaming it to several reasons, mainly, however, to the "whisper," while others are arguing that the right must have patience to conquer.

The Salt Lake City officers were elected and that was all that plain the name of "Americans." The county is overwhelmingly Republican, every officer from constable to commissioner having been elected. It is evident that the Democrats and Republicans who were of the Latterday Saints faith vote as a unit to down the "American" ticket. It is evident that the Democrats and Republicans who were of the Latterday Saints faith vote as a unit to down the "American" ticket. It will now be amusing to see what some of the Republicans will say concerning the alleged deal which is supposed to have been consummated.

THE VOTE IN PROVO CITY

The vote in Provo City was a heavy one. It is not often that ballots were so scratched as they were at this election. It was after three o'clock this morning before the judges and clerks were through with their work. At this time the correct vote can not be given but will appear later. The scratching was found to be in the cause of Mr. Knight for Governor. A heavy vote called for the delay in sending in the reports.

COLLECTING IN THE STATE

Utah will give Taft about fifteen thousand majority. This is the word that was given out this morning from Salt Lake City and there are still many places to be heard from that may add or detract from this amount. The Bryan votes in some localities were better than ever before but these were offset by a heavy gain for Taft.

The entire Republican ticket was elected with a majority that would please any one. The Democrats fell far short of reaching expectations. Weber county gave the Republicans really more than they had really expected to receive. Cache also furnished some unexpected results and all told and summed up the Republicans landed everything.

DEMOCRATS ARE GAME

The unterrified and unwashed are still game and are looking forward to the time when the wind will blow their way. It is said that they will always consider that the party did excellent work and made progress during 1908, considering the difficulties which confronted the party. Probably no party has had more difficult problems to solve. The campaign was fought on good, clean lines by the Democrats and they have nothing to regret except that the cause which they consider right should have won.

Prisoners' Dredges.

The employment of foreign substances to help in stimulating disease is common in prisons. Lime scraped from the cell wall or the surface of an old brick has been used to aggravate sores or produce inflammation of the eyes. But simple acting has been practised with amazing perseverance and complete success. The late Maj. Arthur Griffiths, who knew as much of prisoners' ways as any one in the service of that department of the home office and had had thousands under his control, gave an account of a deception practised at Dartmoor by a convict who was supposed to have the bones of his foot diseased. It was found, after long and careful examination, that there were two large needles, bound round with thread, imbedded in an old wound about the instep. When these had been removed he recovered.—Dur-see Advertiser

WORST FOES OF THE LEVEES

Sources of Danger to the Artificial Banks Along the Mississippi.

"People who know little about our system of levees, the destructive work of living foes, the destructive work of which costs millions of dollars. These foes are alligators, turtles, muskrats, field rats, fresh water terrapin and crowfish. Of all these burrowers that prey on the levees, excavating within them goodly chambers or tunnels, the crowfish do the most damage, with the turtles and terrapins a good second. The harm done by the alligators is comparatively small.

"In repairing the banks crowfish holes are often found of immense size. It is these burrow spaces that in time of freshets cause a caving in and break of the levees, which of course brings on an inundation of all the adjacent country. The worst part of the business is that no way of exterminating these pests has yet been found, and the only thing to be done is to try to keep them away from the banks as much as possible."

New Fountain of Youth.

A certain poor familar, for the seventh of her earlier effusions desires to avoid the learned wrinkle that he comes a part of the literary fact. So she has placed her desk a little mirror in which she glances occasionally as she writes, and if she finds her brow wrinkled in thought she breaks it by smiling vividly and murmuring some variation of "Peace, Joy and Serenity!"

One day as she was doing a very learned essay of the High Thinker, she found that the crease between her eyes persevered. She got angry then and stomped the assertions. On the spur of the moment she tore a corner from her writing pad, dabbed it with mulligan and placed it on the wrinkle.

It stuck fast in a few minutes and her hardened, and now she declares that she has discovered a new fountain of eternal youth.

RESENTED ATTEMPTS TO ROB

Diver Turned on Gulf Whw Sought the Former's Prey.

A Great Northern diver made its appearance at the Cove and spent a part of the winter there, and as he was not disturbed and grew accustomed to the sight of human beings he lost all shyness and fished close to the rocks. One day they saw him with a small flat fish which he could not swallow. By and by a black hooked gill swam to him and began following him and making snatches at the flounder each time the diver towed it up. But the diver would not let him have the fish; he simply turned round to get away from the teasing gill, and the quiet way in which he took it only emboldened the other, until he became quite excited and was almost violent in his efforts to get the fish. Then suddenly the diver dropped the fish, turned on him and struck him like lightning, driving his sharp powerful beak into his neck or the base of his skull. The gill flapped his wings violently once or twice, then turned over and floated away, belly up, quite dead. Instantly after dealing the blow the diver went down and quickly reappeared with the flounder, and resumed fishing and catching it again, just as if nothing had happened, while the dead gill slowly drifted further and further away.—From W. H. Hudson's "The Land's End."

"On the contrary, the levees, both during times of flood and low water, are subject to the incessant attacks of living foes, the destructive work of which costs millions of dollars. These foes are alligators, turtles, muskrats, field rats, fresh water terrapin and crowfish. Of all these burrowers that prey on the levees, excavating within them goodly chambers or tunnels, the crowfish do the most damage, with the turtles and terrapins a good second.
